PODIUM IS GOING VIRTUAL

- Let us start with a confession:

Podium Interpreters could not have predicted the unprecedented circumstances of the pandemic which would bring about far-reaching changes around the globe overnight wreaking havoc on entire industries, including conference tourism, which our company is engaged in.

- Let us continue with a pledge:

Podium Interpreters is always at the forefront of innovation, being quick to grasp the emerging needs and adapting to the ever-changing environment in order to support both our clients and our partners who have been putting their trust in us since the beginning of our corporate journey.

By means of a package of disruptive technological solutions, Podium Interpreters rises to the new challenge and stands by you in these difficult times. Our company undertakes the production of both your international and domestic events, abiding by its strong commitment to high quality multilingual communication.

Thanks to our state-of-the-art and fully equipped virtual conference hub, we provide integrated solutions for your event, be it a simple webinar or a fully-fledged congress.

Through the upgraded service package offered by Podium, you can produce any event, either totally virtual or hybrid.

More precisely, our new service package includes:

- Hosting a conference online, with panelists joining and running their presentations from wherever they are in the world.

Lift all geographical barriers and bring together your panelists from the four corners of the globe in a unique, online environment. Every panelist, from wherever they are, may stream image and sound through their PC, while running their presentations (pdf, ppt, etc.), which are visible and accessible to both the other panelists and attendees.

- Hosting a conference online, with panelists physically present at a conference room.

Panelists gather at a conference room, while our technical crew provides all the sound, image and presentations operations in situ.

- Hosting your conference at our Studio (Green Screen), with the possibility of a virtual background.

- Private livestreaming on our private server (rather than on Facebook, Youtube, etc.), with a unique link created exclusively for your event or integrated in your website.

The player is only accessible to those having the unique password we provide.

- Livestreaming on multiple channels simultaneously (Facebook, Youtube, and on a private server).

Your event is broadcast live on multiple channels, while those who wish to attend, can register through a customized registration form integrated in webpages with your logo, thus receiving notifications via e-mail or instant messaging prior to the event.

- Enabling delegates to attend from wherever they are in the world, and follow the panels through a virtual environment (logos, video, etc.), exclusively created by us.
- Simultaneous interpreting from and to any languages thanks to the exclusive partnership of Podium with the Olyusei RSI platform. Through the state-of-the-art and specially conceived RSI platform and Podium's strong high-profile interpreters network, interpreting has never been easier.

- Switching from one panelist to the other through both pre-recorded and live content streamed to audiences.
- Questions raised by attendees, either in writing (not in chatting form) or through video.
- Online polling during the event.
- Live data and analytics for easily measuring the attendance rate and duration of every session.

- Video recording of your event.
- Supporting any video conference platform, by integrating it into ours.

- Hosting a conference through the creation of a webpage, where access is restricted to attendees allocated to the different virtual rooms.
- Complete technical guidance for both panelists and attendees, through detailed instructions (when using a teleconference platform).
